

Conv. 6

Answers

Complete these sentences with the correct idiom(s)

1. My teacher really told me off, because I didn't do my homework.
2. It was great to see you again Don't be a stranger though! Please visit again soon! (2 idioms)
3. A: What did you think of my speech?
B: Ummm I'm not feeling it man. It sounds kind of lame.
I think you need to practice more.
- A: Really? I thought I did great.
- B: Sorry man! Just Keeping it 100
(3 idioms)
4. BTS has a lot of stars all over the world.
5. A: Did you hear that Severn has 2 girlfriends now? IU and g.na!
B: Wow! Spill the tea and tell me all about it.
6. A: Do you like BTS?
B: Yasssss They're all so cute! And their singing is GUCCI. It's amazing! (2 idioms)
7. A: Do you think I should take that teaching job at Mokwon?
B: Well, you do you If you feel comfortable there then you should take it.
8. I love her instagram photos. I think I'll slide her some DM's
9. IU's new song's the best! It's straight fire
10. The new group's performance was really cringy. It was so embarrassing.
11. A: I hate Severn's homework.
B: Oh man! I feel you He gives way too much homework.
12. The shake's a little expensive, but it's 1 of my favorite burger spots

a. spill the tea

b. slide her some DM's

c. don't be a stranger

d. cringy

e. you do you

f. I feel you

g. I'm not feeling it

h. lame

i. fire

j. spots

k. yasssss

l. Gucci

m. bro

Write the meanings of these idioms in English

(www.onlineslangdictionary.com)

1. have a good one (NOT the Verb!!!) (See also...) (Have a good day)
2. old timer (older person / person w/ a lot of experience)
3. hit on (flirt with)
4. LOL (Lots of laughter)
- FWIW (For what it's worth)
- ROFL (Rolling on the floor laughing)
- BRB (Be right back)
- TBH (To be honest)
- IMO (In my opinion)
- SMH (Shaking my head)
- IDK (I don't know)
- AFAIK (As far as I know)
- BF/GF (boyfriend / girlfriend)
- OMG (Oh my God)
5. blog (online journal)
6. booger (piece of mucus from the nose)
7. chirp (verb) (to talk)
8. funky (#1) (interesting / weird)
9. cheers (#1) (good bye / thank you / good luck)
10. cuss (Verb) (to use bad language)
11. prof (professor)
12. the projects (low income / high crime part of the city)
13. get it off my chest (to confess something)

Contr. 6

1. The Hatfields

2. Roseanna McCoy

PRE-READING

Look at the pictures and read the sentences below. The underlined information is not correct. Replace the underlined words with information that is a more logical guess. Write your answers on the lines. Then share your guesses with the class.

1. Photo 1 was probably taken around 1990.
2. The people in photo 1 were probably all members of the same club.
3. The building behind the people is probably a hospital.
4. They probably lived in a big city.
5. When you look into the eyes of the woman in photo 2, you can see that she was happy.

1890 family home
in the countryside unhappy

Now read the story on pages 99–100. How many of your guesses were correct?

GETTING THE BIG PICTURE

Circle the letter of your answer.

The Hatfield-McCoy feud lasted 12 years and left 12 people dead. What is the main reason the feud became so serious and lasted so long?

- a. The Hatfields wanted the McCoy's land and animals and would not stop fighting until they had them.
- b. The governors of Kentucky and West Virginia could not stop the fighting because whole communities were at war.
- c. The problems between the Hatfields and the McCoy's escalated; that is, each problem led to a bigger problem.

BUILDING VOCABULARY

◆ RECALLING NEW WORDS

The words below are from the story. Write the correct word on the line.

accused

escalated

refused verdict

assured fate

rumors weapons denied mingled

1. Randolph McCoy said he believed that the Hatfields had taken one of his pigs. He accused the Hatfield family of stealing.
2. William Hatfield said it was not true that his family had taken the pig. He denied stealing it.
3. After listening to both sides of the story, the jury made an official decision: Their verdict was that the Hatfields were innocent.
4. When Johnse and Roseanna asked William Hatfield if they could marry, he said that no son of his would ever marry a McCoy. He refused to give his son permission.
5. The McCoy sons had two weapons—a knife and a gun.
6. William Hatfield told the McCoy sons what would happen if his brother died: Their fate would be the same as his brother's.
7. After the deaths of William Hatfield's brother and the McCoy sons, the fighting between the Hatfields and the McCoy's got much worse. It escalated into a war between the two families.
8. One person told another person about the burning of the McCoy house, and then that person told another. Before long, rumors were spreading that entire towns were being burned.

governors told people not to worry: It was not true that whole communities were at war. They assured people that only two families were fighting.

At the reunion, Hatfields and McCos met and talked with each other. They mingled for three days.

◆ RECOGNIZING RELATED WORDS

"Family Feud" is about a problem between two families. Nine words in the story are related to the word problem. In the list below, find the nine words that are related to problem. Circle them. The first one is done for you.

history	governor	war	nickname
argument	conflict	battle	fistfight
hard feelings	trouble	reunion	feud
picnic	report	fighting

DEVELOPING READING SKILLS

◆ ORGANIZING INFORMATION BY DRAWING A PICTURE

Historical accounts—like the story of the Hatfields and McCos—can be difficult to understand because there are many names of people and places. Sometimes it helps to draw a picture as you read. The picture not only helps you understand the story; it also helps you remember it.

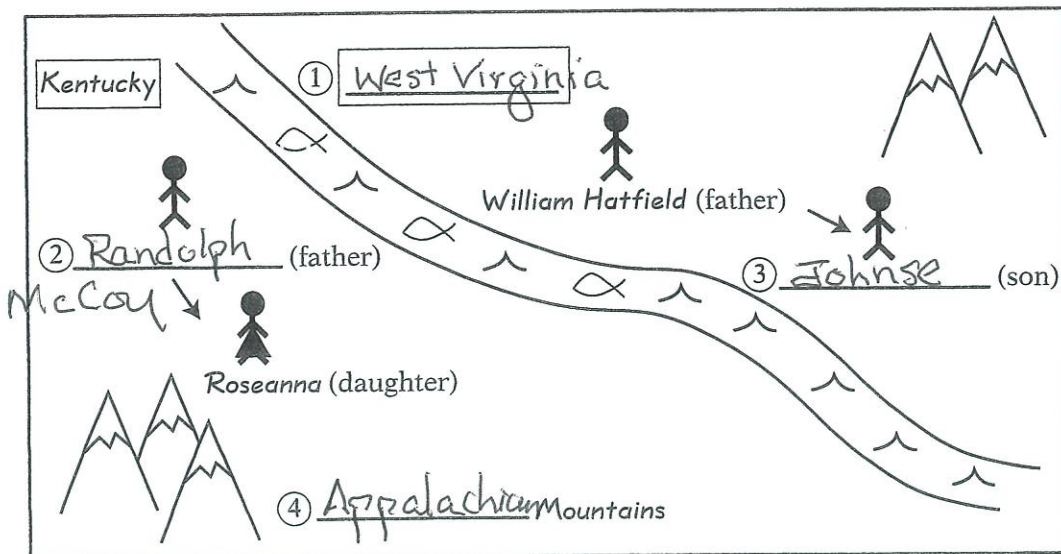

The picture below organizes the information in paragraph 2 of "Family Feud." The names of some people and places are missing from the picture. Write each name on the correct line.

Johnse

West Virginia

Randolph McCoy

Appalachian

◆ ORGANIZING INFORMATION BY MAKING A TIME LINE

Another way to organize the information in a historical account is to make a time line—a list of events in the order in which they happened. A time line can help you understand the events in a story more clearly.

Below is a time line of the events in "Family Feud." The following sentences are missing from the time line. Complete the time line by writing each sentence in the correct place.

- ▶ Randolph McCoy's sons get into an argument with William Hatfield's brother, who is stabbed and shot.
- ▶ The Hatfields burn the McCoy's house down, killing two McCoy children.
- ▶ Roseanna McCoy and Johnse Hatfield fall in love. William Hatfield does not permit their marriage.
- ▶ The Hatfield-McCoy war is over. Twelve people are dead.

Hatfield-McCoy Feud Time Line
1878	1. Randolph McCoy accuses the Hatfields of stealing his pig; a jury decides that the Hatfields are innocent.
	2. Randolph McCoy's sons get into an argument with Wm. Hatfield's brother Roseanna and Johnse fall in love
	3. Roseanna overhears her brothers' plans to attack Johnse and warns him, saving his life.
	4. The Hatfields burn the McCoy's house Randolph McCoy's sons get into an argument
	5. William Hatfield captures the McCoy sons and kills them after his brother dies.
1888	6. The Hatfields burn the McCoy's house
1889	7. Kentucky brings nine Hatfields to trial for the deaths of the McCoy children. One Hatfield is hanged; eight are sentenced to life in prison.
1900	8. The Hatfield-McCoy war is over
2000	9. Over 3,000 descendants of Randolph McCoy and William Hatfield hold a friendly reunion in Kentucky.

UNDERSTANDING CAUSE AND EFFECT

Complete the sentences. Write your answer on the line. (There may be several correct ways to complete each sentence.)

1. Randolph McCoy took the Hatfields to court because he believed they had stolen one of his pigs.
2. Roseanna McCoy didn't want to continue living with the Hatfields because they would never allow her to marry Johnse.
3. In the middle of the night Roseanna sneaked out of her aunt's house because she overheard her brothers planning an attack on Johnse.
4. William Hatfield killed the three McCoy sons because his brother was stabbed to death.
5. The governors of West Virginia and Kentucky sent representatives to investigate the conflict between the Hatfields and the McCoy's because there were rumors that whole communities were at war and towns were being burned down.
6. In 2000, a descendant of Randolph McCoy announced a reunion of the Hatfields and the McCoy's because he decided it was officially time to end the feud.

A PERSONAL STORY

The Hatfield-McCoy feud began with an argument between two farmers over a stolen pig. Next, you will read a story about another two farmers and their conflict. This true story is told by Ben Logan, the son of one of the farmers. He tells what happened when he and his father discovered a neighbor in one of their cornfields on a hot summer day.

Look at the photo of a field of corn on the next page. When corn is ripe, the corn stalks are higher than a man is tall, so you can't see a man walking in a cornfield; you can see only the stalks moving. Imagine the cornfield in the story, and imagine the stalks moving as the neighbor walks through the field. What do you think the neighbor is doing in the field?